Indice replied:

I hold that under the Code of Civil Procedure it is my duty of exclude any talesman who, in my judement, is deficient in he requisite qualifications, and that my judement, is deficient in he requisite qualifications, and that my judement is not subset to review. I will not note your exception, though if that act is of service to you, you may improve it as you see fit.

While John Freyburger was being examined. Mr. Shaer complained that Mr. Nicoll was not treating him sirly. The witness was extremely obtuse and Mr. Nicoll ad heen asking him some elementary questions intended a show whether or not be know anything. Mr. Shafer has lead in his defence of the witness. Mr. Nicoll proceeded:

What do you understand the juror's business to be ! A. I don't know. Q.-What do you understand the court's duty to be 1 A .- 1

The judge started to dismiss the juror, when Mr. Shafer intervened. "This is a good juror," he said. "Let me ask him some questions." The Judge consented.

Q.—It is the Court's business to decide questions of law, now, san't it! A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And the jury's to decide questions of fact, ch! A.—Yes, sir. That is what you understand the Court and jnror to be or, isn't it? A .- Yes, sir.

Pere for, isn'tet! A.—Ves, sir.

"There, now," said Mr. Shafer, while everybody gnahed.

"What do vou understand that Mr. Shafer is here for!" asked Mr. Nicoll.

The witness looked hopelessly around and said: "I don't know."

"That confession is enough to exclude the talesman," said Judge Barrett, satirically. "Every one ought to see that Mr. Shafer is here to qualify the jury and to disqualify the judge."

George S. Squire, a salesman in the employ of Dunham, Buckley & Co., snally took the vacant seat. He was one of the twelve men who convicted Policeman Crowley. He tried hard to set excused on account of his business, but the ladge said that every ditzen should do his duty.

Mr. Nicoll then dismissed Juror Simon, No. S, and a long procession of talesmen succeeded each other on the stand, all fortified with robust opinions. Thomas L. Carnoy sold he was deaf in one ear, and though Mr. Shafer was willing to accept him in case he would promise to keen the deaf ear turned toward the prosecution and the good ear toward the defence, the Judge excussed him. The second panel of 100 talesmen was exhausted before the cighth seat was filled again, but the first man of the third panel was necepted. He was Isane Rematch, a knit goods dealer, doing business at No. 216 Henry-st. and living at No. 315 Canal-st. He appeared to be a fair-minded man of intelligence. Thomas A. Young, the ninth juror, was excused by the prosecution, and after a dozen persons had been examined his seat was given to Theodory McGarrah, of No. 15 Whitehallest, Mr. McGarrah is a decided man with a positive opinion, but he said he could hold it in abeyance and decide the case solely on the evidence. Mr. Shafer knew more about the state and operation of Mr. McGarrah's mind than its owner did, but the effort was not successful. Mr. Martine announced that he thought he was satisfied with the jury and the court adjourned. Those now in the box are as follows:

of Education five days pay for striking a pupil who had called him names in the street the previous evening. A discussion ensued as to whether the teacher was amenable to the State law or to the Board of Education and a motion to lay the entire matter on the table was lost by a small vote. The resolution to fine the teacher was adopted by a large majority, although a letter was read from the mother of the boy approving the action of the teacher and one from one of the trustees of the school to the same effect.

A buter was received by the Board from the New-York Teachers' Association, stating that the association desired to take measures for securing the passage of an act by the Legislature making the office and salary of teashers permanent. The coo-eration of the Board was asked. Mr. Sprague spoke in tayor of securing the action of the Legislature for the appointment of a commission by the Supreme Court to place the valuation of property parchased by the Board of Education for school sites. The Board decides not to purchase a frame building in Con-hundred-and-twenticthest, for school purposes; all frame buildings having been condemned for school uses by the Fire Department. The application of the trustees of the Twelfth Ward to put up an addition to Grammar School No. 37 in East Eighty-eighth-st, was refused as large school is to be built this year at Lexington-ave. and Ninety-sixth-st. The trustees of the Ninth Ward asked for an addition to Grammar School so owned by the Board and a building could be constructed on it for $40,000. The school is now one of the largest in the sity and is overcrowded, several hundred children were turned away last fall. The addition was opposed by Mr. Schmitt but the Board authorized the trustees to advertise for propocals.

MR. COMSTOCK URGED TO STAY IN THE BOARD. When Auditor John M. Comstock was appointed might be called upon to act as an executive in the absence of Naval Officer Burt and appoint candidates who had been examined by the Civil Service Board of which he is a member, he offered his resignation as a member of the board. Yesterday he received the following letter from President Edgerton, of the Civil Service Commission: deputy naval officer two weeks ago, knowing that he

Service Commission:

On behalf of the commission, I have to inform you, in answer to your letter of the 21st, that, in the commissioners opinion, no necessity exists for the tenuer or acceptance of your resignation from the Board of Examiners because of your appointment as a secula deputy to the naval officer; but, on the contrary, the commission would prefer to have you continue upon the board, and dreitnes to a cept, your resignation. In taking this action the commission desires to express its combinence in your integrity and chillty, and its desire that you should continue your connection with the Board of Examiners. In this action and expression the commission is manimous.

I Mr. Comstock was for many years and until Collector Hedden's new board "reorganized" him out, chairman ef the Board of Examiners. His displacement was due to the fact that he was too strong an adherent to Civil Service to satisfy the clamoring place-hunters in the County Democracy, but the excuse given was that to have a Republican chairman was not in accordance with "Jacksonian principles and Jeffersenian simplicity."

MAYOR HEWITT AND THE SUBWAYS. Controller Loewsaid yesterday that he had not been onsulted by Mayor Hewitt in the preparation of the Subway bill which is to be introduced in the Legislature within a few days. He added:

I have not even read it yet and am not prepared to give any opinion on it. But of one thing I am satisfied, and that is that the commission did not have the right to make a contract with any construction company to build the subways. My brother ascertained this fully long before I duge Van Housen sand anything about it. This was what caused so much delay. The Commission had no money to build subways and my brother behaved it had no power to employ any company as has been done. Of course the Legislature can give the Commissioners this power. In regard to the city officials undertaking the work of the Commission, that is quite another thing. Most of us have about all we can attend to as it is. I know I have. But perhaps the Mayor, who, I understand, is an engineer and an electrician, will have such a surplus of health and energy and knowledge on the subject that he will give us the necessary points on the subject and drive things.

ROCKLAND COUNTY.

A CHANGE IN THE CHARTER OAK CASE, THE DIRECTORS REMOVE THE SUIT TO THE UNITED STATES COURT-EFFECTS OF THE STEP.

Connecticut has looked horns with New-York over Charter Oak Lite Insurance Company matters. The directors have removed to the United States Court Charter Oak Life Insurance Company matters. The directors have removed to the United States Court the suit in which General Louis Fitzgeraid was appointed receiver in this State, and now the New-York policy-holders, headed by George S. Studwell, the truste of their interests, propose to get the suit back into the State courts here, if it be possible. The probability of an attempt to remove the case to the United States Court was announced some time ago by The TRIBUNE. The necessary bond has now been filed and has been approved by Justice Andrews.

Heneral Fitzgerald was appointed receiver on the application of Attorney-General O'Brien and Charles F. MacLean was made his counsel. The Charter Oak people selected Charles B. Alexander as their legal representative, and the company has been acting in conjunction with the Connecticut receivers, who claim that all the assets should be distributed among all the policy-holders here lay claim to the assets in this State and have got out attachments against the real estate here and under Mr. Studwell's lead have engaged Work & McNamee to carry on the legal war for the s. The removal of the case to the United States Court is evidently an attempt on the part of the Connecticut receivers to get a general distribution of all the assets, as that court would not be supposed to have the tender solicitude of the State court for p. diey-holders here.

Mr. Alexander ass asked yesterday why the case had been renoved. "Under instructions from the company at Hartford," said he.

"What effect will it have on the manner of distribution of the assets in General Fitzgerald's hands!" he was asked.

Mr. Alexander declined to express an opinion, but as was asked.

Mr. Alexander declined to express an opinion, but as to the effect on General Fitzgerald himself as receiver he said: "The receiver has been equally removed with the case and his receivership will not be disturbed; he will undoubtedly continue as receiver, as the United States Court will undoubtedly be as well satisfied with him as au officer as the State has been."

"Will there be an attempt to oppose the removal!"

"Such an attempt could only be made by applying to the United States Court to send the case back, and this of course the company would oppose."

"Will the transfer to the United States Court delay the distribution of the funds in General Fitzgerald's hands?"

"No, I think not," replied Mr. Alexander, "The machinery in each court is equally available for the distribution of the funds."

"How many policy-holders are there!"

"When in Connecticut I learned that there were 10.000."

The subject was "Temper-ance," and the speaker held the undivided attention of his audience while he warned them not to form a most that would only cause sorrow and trouble. Among other things he said:

There is great danger lest our race become a deviatized race, and it is our duty to see that the future generations shall not suffer through having their vitality lowered through any foolish excesses on our part. The truest patroism is exhibited by the man who is willing to give up a little pleasure to-day which he knows will injure the life of his home and thus affect the vitality of his country."

MONEY FOR THE PENSIONERS. MONEY FOR THE PENSIONERS.

As the payment of pensioners at the New-York agency begins to-morrow at No. 398 Canal-at., the Pension Agent has issued a circular relative to personal payments in which he suggests that on account of the transfer of over 4,000 pensioners from New-Jersey to the rolls of the New-York agency, it would be desirable for the benefit of all if those who have nitherto been paid by appearing in person at the office should have their vouchers made out by a notary public, justice of the peace or clerk or a court and have them sent to the agency, when a check will be transmitted by mail. To further this object as much as possible the secretary of the Menorial Committee, G. A. R., Courade John McPh. "128, will attend to such cases at Roc.a No. 4, City Hall, whe the necessary blank vouchers can be had. Captain Feldstein will also be present at certain hours.

PIGEON SHOOTING AT NEWARK.

The pigeon-shooting match between Frank Class, of Most-ciair, and W. W. Lever, of Etizabeth, came off yesterday at Erb's Ground, Bloombeld Road, Newark. There was a large crowd of prominent wing shots present, and considerable money changed hands. After the selection of a referse Lever won the loss and sent Class to the trap. Class killed his first burd, but on being challenged the referee decided "ne bird."

Lever did some good shooting and at the close of the twentieth round was five birds ahead. Class could not reduce this lead and at the end of the thirty-first round Lever was desired the winner, having killed twenty-four to class's nineteen.

Three sweepstakes were shot off at five birds each. It the first, with ten entries, first money was divided between W. Brientrall and O. Von Lengerke, killing four ach. In the second, with fourteen entries, first money or a divided between C. Von Lengerke, Manitz and Butlee killing four each. There were ten entries in the third, with was divided between McCall and O. Von Lengerke, killing for each, tween McCall and O. Von Lengerke, killing for each. Graham, examplen of England, was in these sweepstakes and took second money in one.

THE ITALIAN MURDERESS NOT TO HANG. ALLOWED TO PUT IN A PLEA OF GUILTY OF MUR

Chiara Cignarale, the Italian woman on trial before Chiara Cignarale, the Italian woman on trial before Recorder Smyth for murder in the first degree, will not suffer the fate of Mrs. Druse. The testimony against her taken on Tuesday seemed to show clearly that she was gulity of the crime charged. She had quarrelled with her husband about a man with whom ale had been living, and about noon on October 20, she followed her husband in First-ave, near One-hundred-and-eleventh-st, and deliberately shot him in the back. The shooting was witnessed by a dozen persons and the woman practically admitted her guit.

William F. Howe, the woman's counsel, talked through an interpreter with his olient for a long time before court opened yesterday. The woman, who is of delicate appearance, was pale and appeared to be suffering from sickness and from tear. She occasionally ering from sickness and from tear. She occasionally wept. After Mr. Howe had Buished his conversation with his client be consulted Recorder Smyth. District-Attorney Martine was sent for, and he and the defendant's counsel talked together for a time.

The prisoner's lawyer then said that certain circumstances had come to his knowledge that led him to advise the prisoner, with the permission of the Court, to withcraw her plea of not guilty and to plead guilty fo a charge of murder in the second degree. He said that he had not learned of all the circumstances or be would have given the advice before.

Mr. Martine said that he believed in the existing state of public opinion, as shown in the discussion on the hanging of Mrs. Druse, that it would be difficult at this time to secure an agreement to convict the woman of an oflepoe punishable by death, He did not consider the law unjust. The punishment, however, provided for the second degree of murder was also a severe one, dreaded by many with almost equal tear with that inspired by the death penalty.

Recorder Smyth said that as the District-Attorney was willing, and in consideration of the statements made by the detendant's counsel, who now stated that there were Recorder Smyth for murder in the first degree, will not suffer the fate of Mrs. Druse. The testimony

YACHTS THAT WILL RACE ON THE OCEAN. ENERGETIC WORK ON THE CORONET-A GALA DAY ON THE DAUNTLESS.

An effort was made to get the Coronet off the screw-dock at the high tide shortly after noon yesterday. The buoying sections were sunk, but when they touched bottom the yacht's water-line was seven inches above water. She was allowed to remain there until the next high tide at 1 o'clock this morning. Her weight pressed the sections into the mud, and she thus gained three inches of water. Captain Crosby shipped the balance of his crew in the morning. There are fourteen men before the mast, and all of them were men before the mast, and all of them were selected with a view to their experience in fore-and-aft vessels. Several of them had sailed in the Coronet on her last ocean voyage, and assert that they feel safer in her than they would in a steamship. They were at once act to work putting things to rights above deck, rigging preventer backstavs and rattling down the rigging. To day they bend the sails, if the weather continues pleasant Captain Crosby expects to have everything shi, shape by Saturday, when he will make a trial trip. This will give him plenty of time to make any alterations he deems necessary before the race is started next Tuesday.

he deems necessary before the race is started next Tuesday.

It was a gala day on board the Dauntless at her anchorage off Tompkinsville. Her owner had invited a dozen friends to take hincheon with his nother and himself in the schooner's saloon and the beat was decorated for the occasion. Her international code signal flags were strung from the jibboom over the topmast flags were strung from the jibboom over the topmast heads to the end of the main boom, her private pennant and the New-York Yacht Club flag hung from the topmasts and the United States yacht ensign floated over her stern. The deck had been belystoned until it looked as clean as a Fhilastelphia deorstoop, and the officers and sailors appeared in their new regulation uniforms. The guests arrived at the Scawanhaka Club house at 1 o'clock and were taken aboard in the yacht's gig. After looking over the vessel and partaking of the many good things which Steward Brown and his assistants had prepared, there was harnly one of the party who did not express a wish that he or size night be of the board's company disting the race. If there is wind enough to-day the Dauntless will make another trial trip outside Sandy Hook.

Stock Exchange was held yesterday afternoon to con-An exceptional amount of scratching made it impossible to determine until yesterlay the results of Tuesday a town elections throughout the county. The new supervisions are corangetown, A. X. Fation. Haverstraw, Josain Fester; Ramapo, Jacob Snider; Stoay Point, W. K. Hammond; Clarks town, Frank P. Demarest. In samapo the entire Republican town ticket was elected. The prohibition vote was light. The multiplied statement that a meeting of the comsider the report of the Standing Committee on Constitusalaried office. After a brief discussion the measure was rejected, alchough the role is understood to have been uncomfortably close. It is not probable that the project will be revived again for some time.

The published statement teat a meeting of the committee was held on Tuesday, when the time was devoted to a discussion of a letter written by William P. Grovesteen, of Grovesteen & Pell, on the subject of the "licker" service and in the interest of the Commercial Telegram Company, of which his firm is a large stock-holder, was incorrect in several essential particulars. There was no discussion, because there was no meeting. Secretary Ety said with considerable emphasis when the statement was called to his attention:

It is a falsehood from beginning to end. There was no meeting yesterday; there will be one to-day called for a special purpose, which is not a discussion of Mr. Grovesteen's letter. That document will take the curse of all succommunications—it will be read to the governors and then be filed away. If there was an enting of the committee every day, there is no chance that the letter would be discussed.

A member of the committee remarked that the purpose of publishing letters like dir. Grovesteen's was apparent to every one. No allusion to the letter was an apparent to every one. No allusion to the letter was made at the succession of the first was mediately secosted the Stock Exchange yesterday he was immediately secosted as "Jim the penman" by some of his jocular associates.

CARTING AWAY STOLEN CIGARS.

Burglars invaded the cigar factory of L. Kahner & Co., at No. 202 East One-hundredth st., on Tuesday night and carried away a cart-load of cigars. They first pried open a cellar door with jimmies and then put a padlock of their own on the door to keep out any inquisitive policeman that might pass the place, while they ransacked the factory at their leisure. Evidently they intended to get more than eigars for they drilled two holes near the combina tion lock of the safe, but they found the safe too strong tion lock of the safe, but they found the safe too strong and gave up the attempt. The eigars which they stole were carried out through the ceilar and loaded on a track. Probably they waited until a time in the morning when the appearance of a loaded truck in the streets would not arouse the suspicions of the police. Police Captain Conlin sent out this general slarm: "Stolen, 25,000 eigars, in boxes marked Factory No. 65, New-York, Third District." Later in the day the firm thought they had lost over 40,000 eigars, worth about $1,400. Most of the cigars were of a cheap kind, it was said that the police had no clew to the burglars. Superintendent Murray called Captain Coulin to Police Headquarters yesterday and asked him to explain how a load of cigars could be stolen from a factory without the knowledge of the policeman on post. It is probable that some of the patrolmen who were on duty near the factory will be piaced on trial.

PLANS FOR NIAGARA INTERNATIONAL PARK. A buge map occupying half the wall on one side of William Dorsheimer's office yesterday indicated in a gen-eral way the result of months of labor of Messrs. Oimstead and Vaux, the well-known landscape architects to put into visible form their ideas of how the proposed International Niagara Park should be made a thing of beauty and a joy forever to American and Canadian aftice and to the world in general. Only three of the romulestoners, Messrs. Dorsheimer, Anderson and Rogers, were present to receive the report which accompanied the map and to act upon it. This report embodied their conclusions on the plans for the park and is a voluminous document, large enough to fill a page of The TRIBUNE. This was sent at once to the printer and will not be given out until Saturday. Mr. Olmstead stated that the report contained no features that had not been presented to the public in one form or another before, and that the whole purpose of Mr. Vaux and himself had been to retain the natural features of the reservation. Commissioner Green was absent in Albany and for this reason no definite action was taken on the report. That will be done to-day, when Mr. Green is expected to be present. to put into visible form their ideas of how the proposed boycott had no effect on the pool brewers so far, that their sales were fully up to the average of this season, and that so far as he had been able to learn only four of the retailers had left the pool brewers within the last week.

President Bernard F. Kearus, of the retail flouor dealers, tells a different story. He says that there have been so far fully 500 changes and that, as the non-pool breweries of New-York and its vicinity are now running to their full capacity, other changes will not take place until arrangements can be made to get beer from out-of-town breweries.

AN UNDAUNTED LIAR.

Pros. The Boston Commercial Bulletin.

As an illustration of the "colossal liars" of the West,
General McCook relates the following: He was travelling among the Bocky Mountains, and straying out one morning from the trail, stood for a moment entranced by the magnificent landscape spread before him, when he was aroused from his meditation- by the footsteps of one of the guides, who had followed him, lest he should lose his way.

"Is not this magnificent, Billi" exclaimed the General, anxious to share his delight.

"It's mighty purty, General," said the guide, "but I kin show you bigger sights nor this. Why, one time

Kansas Jim and me had been trampin' three days and nights, and we came to a plain, and right in the midst of it was a forest all turned to solid stun!"

The General smiled and remarked: "I have heard of petrified trees before, Bill."

The guide expectorated without changing countenance and continued: "But that warn't all, General. Thar war a buffalo on that plain, and he war petrified on the clean jump, and his buffs had kicked up a bit of sod, and I'm blamed of that warn't petrified in the air!"

The General turned an amused countenance on the narrator and said: "Why, Bill, the sod would have failen to the ground by the force of gravity."

Without any hesitation Bill answered: "Well, by gosh, General, the gravity war petrified, too!"
